The Rose of Joy,
It looks beautiful, and it sounds beautiful.
What does it mean,
I wonder? The Rose of Joy might be helpfulness. If it is, then it is always blooming in your
dear heart...

MY GARDEN

In Happy Valley, the winners are . . .

Mixed plantings in Preston and Carolyn Butcher's back yard.

HAPPY VALLEY

GARDEN CLUB

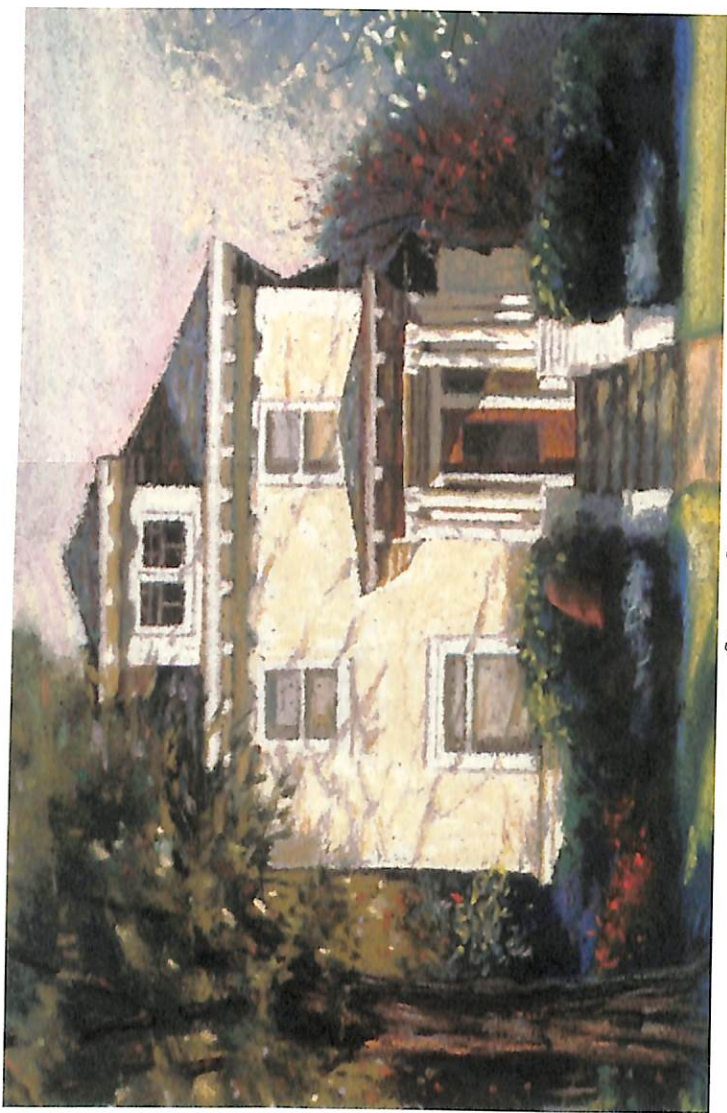

1998-1999

Portland, Oregon
Clackamas District No. 15

Preston and Carolyn Butcher were one of two first-place winners in the city of Happy Valley's Golden Spade Awards. Now in its second year, the contest is judged by a committee that includes a city representative, at least one Happy Valley Garden Club member and other volunteers. The judges visit small, medium and large gardens in the north Clackamas County community. Judges were impressed by the variety of plants and flowers in the Butchers' front and back garden, which took top honors for medium-size lots. The landscape combines perennials, evergreens and annual plants. Judges also liked the design, which boasts a standout shade garden in the back yard.

Marjorie McCall took second place and Dianne Boyer third place for medium-size lots. Small lot category winners: Lauren Kuhn and Jeff Dulcich, first place; Vic Lundmark, second place; and Sherry McTavish, third. Honorable mention went to Mark and Kim Johnson in the large lot/vegetable and herb garden category.
